Principal Product Manager

Sonos, Inc.

Dec 2005 – Jul 2017 · 11 yrs 8 mos
Santa Barbara, California Area

Transforming how consumers listen to music in their homes by creating innovative and easy to use products for Sonos, I spent nearly 12 years helping to grow the business and scaling how the organization created innovative products that customers love.

- Defined product strategies and roadmaps for a cross-platform, smart-home sound system
- Directed a cross-functional product group that included 3 teams of product managers, software developers, user experience designers and testers
- Spearheaded the creation and 3 major redesigns of the Sonos apps which transformed how customers listen to music in their homes
- Pioneered a ground-breaking retail experience which resulted in an innovative technology platform that scaled for multiple other retail environments, such as Apple
- Increased Net Promoter Score (NPS) by 10% by partnering with several strategic music partners such as Spotify and Apple on technically complex product integrations

July 26, 2018, Raja worked with
Joni in different groups

I have had the pleasure of working with Joni on two separate occasions - first at Sonos and then later at TrackR. At Sonos, she and I worked very closely over a number of years on a series of different SW related projects. It was clear from the start that Joni's combination of business smarts, tech knowledge and u... See more

I really enjoyed working with Joni at Sonos and have a tremendous respect for her product management skills and cross-team leadership abilities. Fundamental to great product management is identifying and designing solutions for the unmet need of users and prospects. I always found that Joni had a knack for ... See more
